KEYMACRO was developed to be the ultimate keyboard for your computer. It acts as your keylogger to capture all your keystrokes as well as keyboard commands. It allows you to save them in separate files. KEYMACRO has several configurable options, allowing you to configure it to suit your needs. Keymacro supports following keyboard commands - Capture all keyboard commands including modifier keys(Alt, Ctrl, Shift) - Save all keyboard commands to file - Filter commands based on a text pattern. Keymacro also supports following modules - Database system for user name and/or email address (based on MySQL) - Browser for surfing the internet (Chrome and Firefox). [HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Software\Aldebaran\Keymacro] Flags=4 I have a keylogger, too, called KEYMACRO. When I turned it on, my keyboard disappeared from my desktop. I have another application called FishMUD that uses the programmatic keyboard with a joystick. I'd like to use both applications at once. I have yet to figure out how to get the two applications to share the same keyboard. Why am I not able to use the two keyboards together? My latest project is a free software that I developed named LibAtmosphere. The project is a library that will let you make applications that use the ATMOSPHERIC library to interact with the UI. I use it to make a custom WPF Control Suite that has a high user-friendliness. I want to make the source code for the library to be open-source. My goals are to: - Provide the source code to everyone - Open the library to all Windows programs that use ATMOSPHERIC ...seek for a software like this, a lot of times i would install programs that are not really needed, or not in the right language i need, and even if i do get what i want there is still a lot of trouble for installation and a lot of times when i close it the program is really messy, i would like a software that i could just double click on and have it done, is this too much to ask for i am really tired of struggling with this and would like to see a really easy one to use, software that can install programs and everything in one window, i will provide all the info and screenshots needed. I hope you can get the idea of what im after. We would like 77a5ca646e
