February 1, 2020 - Magic Inlay is a shape-based puzzle game where you get a constant stream of polygons, which then have to fit into the given template on . This game was created to let you decide in what order you would place the objects in the field. You can create an unlimited number of projects for the game, but it's not required because you don't have to do it in this app. You can play with the toggle buttons, but if you like the visuals and don't want to just look at the screen, you can use the mouse to move around the polygons and select the appropriate objects to place.
